15 ESSENTIAL SKILLS EVERY WEB DEVELOPER SHOULD HAVE

Posted on AUGUST 26, 2022 by TECHNICAL-ORIGAMI

As the online era continues to evolve and dominate, the hunt for an ideal and skilled web developer becomes a little tricky. Moreover, as technology evolves, development trends change, making it essential for web developers to brush up on their skills and keep pace with the evolving surroundings. However, often people find it difficult to identify the basic skills that define an ideal web developer, so here we have put together a list of essential skills that every web developer should have. Let's dig in!

1. Technical Skills – Web development is all about technicalities and so a web developer is expected to have strong technical skills. The hard skills including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Content management systems, other design applications, web server management, online marketing, responsive design, user experience, user interface, graphic design, and color theory are a must-have for a web developer.

2. Understand Mobile Design – As mobile is one of the most preferred devices, it is essential that the developer should be well-versed with mobile design and development nitty-gritty.

3. Testing and Debugging Skills – Testing the webpage is often needed to ensure that it is free from errors. And when any error is spotted, a web developer should be capable to debug them.

4. Write Clean and Readable Code – Too-much cluttered code is not the current trend. So, a developer should be able to write clean and readable code.

5. Analytical Skills – Examining errors in codes is a key skill that every developer should have. Having analytical skills is essential to note that the code is correct and the website functions properly.

6. Search Engine Optimization Skills – Developers who know the fundamentals of SEO ensure to implement the right SEO tactics when developing the site, which ensures better rankings in the future.

7. Communication Skills – A good command of communication is a must for developers. to be able to convey the right message and update the clients with the progress.

8. Problem-Solving – A problem-solving person can easily tackle the roadblocks that might come while coding.

9. Attention to Detail – Every tiny detail matters and so an ideal web developer should be able to give proper attention to details.

10. Teamwork – Coding isn't done single-handedly. It might involve instances where other team members would be required for a certain task. Thus, a web developer should be able to work well with other web developers.

11. Time Management – Developing involves a lot of tasks, from developing to testing to post-launch maintenance. Thus, to manage all these tasks without hampering the outcome, it is essential to be able to manage time and prioritize things.

12. Creative Mind – Creativity is definitely a key skill to be considered for a flawless and impressive web development.

13. Urge to Learn – Regularly brushing up on the skills is essential for a web developer and this can only when he/she is having the urge to learn and explore.

14. Social Interaction – Interacting with people helps in learning and dealing with different things and so social interaction is essential.

15. Be Updated with the Industry – As the industry trends keep on changing, it is essential for a web developer to be updated with the new trends and technologies.

Now that you have a picture in your mind of the skills you should look in a developer, it would be easy for you to find one. However, the skills are polished over time and with experience. At the end of the day, the success of your software, website, or app depends upon whom you hand over the
